A JEFFERSON STANDARD POLICY IS A DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE FOR THE FAMILY

MORE than 45,000 North Carolinians own Jefferson Standard life insurance.

This eloquent fact is a result of the high regard in which the Company is held by the people in its Home State and because they know the value of placing their insurance with a strong home institution where North Carolina money is kept working in North Carolina for North Carolinians.

FLIGHT INTO OBLIVION A. J. HANNA

More exciting than fiction, this book sheds new light on that brief but neglected period in American history immediately following the fall of Richmond in April, 1865. With a wealth of illuminating detail it retraces the dramatic flight of the Confederate Cabinet southward through North Carolina and into oblivion.

Foreword—

The mission of The News and Observer is to serve North Carolina. Thirty-eight years ago its management, feeling the need of a Vade Mecum of North Carolina which would compress into a small volume information that did not exist about men and things, began the publication of The North Carolina Year Book. It truly supplied "a long felt want." The Year Book undertakes to be a summary of North Carolina's indebtedness, by separate government agencies, the valuation of property, the tax rates, population and area statistics, its educational and eleemosynary institutions, officers of the National Guard, the industrial and banking interests of the State and other information that could be found in no other single volume. As corollaries to these statistics and official data, there was the need of a roster of the public officials of the counties and the State, professional men, officers of patriotic and all other societies touching the life of the State. Within the pages of The North Carolina Year Book will be found, for example, the name and address of the Sheriff of every county as well as all other officials, committees of all political parties and the official vote for State officials, the officers who man all banks and factories—in a word, there is contained thousands of names of important personages in the State and their functions. The Year Book, like The News and Observer, has become an institution devoted to service to the State. It fills a niche no other publication aspires to fill. When a better Year Book is needed, The News and Observer will furnish it. Personally I could not carry on when editing the paper without the Year Book and this is as true of all others who find the need of having close at hand an index of North Carolina and North Carolinians.

THE CAROLINA CO-OPERATOR

RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

"Covers the Carolinas"

It is the only magazine devoted exclusively to organized agriculture in the Carolinas. The Carolina Co-operator serves up news of things you should know in a style you'll like. There is something in it for every member of the farm family. Articles of interest about people you know are written by leading authors. The freshness of its new make-up and features will appeal to you. If you are not already a subscriber, you can't afford to delay in sending in your order. It pays to keep abreast of agriculture in your own State. The rate is only 50c a year or three years for $1.00.

Advertisers find the Carolina Co-operator an effective medium for reaching a rich rural market. A paid circulation of over 24,000 is guaranteed, while over 100,000 persons read the Co-operator each month. Its readers are not only the best-informed but the most able-to-buy. Only a localized and specialized publication could hope to offer so much in the way of reader interest. Complete coverage of all leading farmers and farm leaders in the two states is assured, as well as hundreds of vocational teachers, Grange lecturers, and county agents, commissioners, purchasing agents and auditors. A letter will bring advertising rate and sample copies without obligation.

This Same Market Is Also Served By the Carolina Co-operator

YEARBOOK AND ALMANAC

The Yearbook is a year 'round visitor in the rural home. Its constant use as a reference source proves its reader interest and advertising value. Its authoritative features, facts, hints and delightful humor have a wide appeal. You'll want to read the Co-operator Yearbook and Almanac; you'll want to know more about your own State, about agriculture and the topics of general interest packed into its pages.

These Widely Read Publications Will Come, Handsomely Printed, from

THE CO-OPERATIVE PRESS

The most modern equipment, in charge of men skilled in the printing profession, assures you work of the highest quality. No matter how small or large, your order will be filled on the dot! Thorough copy service will assure you perfection without delay. Why not let Co-operative Press handle your next printing job? You'll be surprised that top-quality work can be done so quickly and reasonably.

Looking for SECURITY?

Thousands of North Carolina's citizens enjoy guarantees of future financial security as owners of more than a quarter-million policies issued by this company.

In a recent year our payments under policy contracts in fifteen States averaged close to $23,000 a day.

Isn't it probable that you and your family, some day, may need to share in such a financial service?

Ask one of our representatives to discuss with you a plan fitted to your purse and purpose.

LOUISBURG COLLEGE

A Co-Educational, Junior College of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South

Outstanding Among Junior Colleges in State and South in the Following Points:

1. Self-Help or Duty Work Program: Makes it possible for every worthy student attending to obtain some form of self-help work; and operates its self-help program so that concrete educational values are obtained, including such values as a sense of time and money; value of work; personal integrity and responsibility.
2. Well-Rounded and Complete Course of Study: Offers courses in Industrial Arts, a subject rarely found in any junior college; Home Economics; Agriculture; Art; Music; and the usual Liberal Arts and Science Courses.
3. Individual Attention to Students: Only in smaller colleges is real attention to each student possible, and Louisburg College constantly strives to assist in every way in the solution of the problems presented by each individual student. With one teacher for every twenty students this can be accomplished.
4. Well-Equipped and Trained Faculty: Many of the teachers have their master's degree and several their doctorates, and all are selected on the basis of experience and Christian character.

LOUISBURG COLLEGE IS A GROWING INSTITUTION

With the PIONEERS of '49!

There are two easy ways to guard against the loss of public property and personal prestige which always results when county records disintegrate because of time or severe handling.

One way is negative. It is simply to avoid the purchase of record papers which have not been in actual use long enough to prove their permanence. Unless you know positively that a paper has lasted for many years in the past, you cannot be sure that it will last for many years in the future.

The positive way is easier, safer. It is merely to standardize on L. L. BROWN'S LINEN LEDGER. You can do so with full confidence because, for almost 100 years, this paper has been proving its supreme resistance to time and hard use. Its unique endurance is a matter of public record in every state and in most counties, — in some even as far back as 1849.

An Interesting Figure

. . . even when seen on the sands of a beach, but more interesting still when applied to your business. Did you know that 87 per cent of all impressions made upon the human mind are registered through the eye? Hence the necessity of illustrating your advertising story.

Regardless of the nature of your business your advertising message will be seen more quickly and will make a more lasting impression if supported by pictures or illustrations.
